Software and Service

Our marquee product, LAMP Enterprise is true on-demand software that provides Software as a Service and restructures the economics of the delivery of all implementation and support needs. LAMP provides many advantages over traditional ERP software and it solves many problems companies have had with typical enterprise software.

With data centers in Chicago and Manila we are truly a global provider of SaaS ERP solutions.

Our Business Process Outsourcing group provides a quality service that meets or exceeds the expectations of our clients at a significantly reduced cost.

We meet these expectations via the “Impart Services Management” framework which is a unified approach for organizing and managing a successful organization in an outsourced environment. The key tenets of this approach are:

1. Customer Service
2. Solution Delivery, and
3. Relationship Management

Impart’s people and experience is key to addressing your organization’s needs. We believe that no methodology, approach, or technology can guarantee the right solution unless the right people with the right skills are chosen to perform the work

Impart Solutions knows success is both an individual commitment and a team effort. An important factor in our pursuits is fitting our solutions with others to create the interdependence it takes to accomplish great tasks.

In our dynamic and challenging environment, it is imperative that our clients are confident that we know their business and can provide the value-added services required by them to keep ahead.

Responding to this need, we have organized our people into integrated and proactive industry groups, each of which is well equipped to advise clients on the latest industry issues and developments.

Our industry groups are truly professional and are the envy of their peers. As a client, through the focus of one of our industry groups, you will be guaranteed the attention of professionals who make it their business to know yours.
