

SOFTWARE AS A SERVICE

LAMP Enterprise is software as a service that dramatically restructures the economics of implementing, delivering, and supporting enterprise software.

Software as a Service Features

Software as a Service (SaaS), a concept of licensing software over the web, provides many advantages over traditional software that solves a lot of problems companies have had with enterprise software.

Hosted Application

SaaS is hosted and maintained by the software provider. Software activities such as installing, patching, and backups are performed by the software provider. This minimizes the need to maintain an internal IT staff and thus enables you to concentrate more on your business.

Web-Enabled

Through the use of internet technologies, SaaS becomes widely accessible. Now that most computer users are familiar with internet browsing, SaaS applications becomes easy to use and always available.

Consumer Friendly

Emergence of SaaS provides healthy competition in business software which drives down the costs and risks assumed by the consumer. If the customer does not like the software, they just stop paying for the service.

Cost Efficient

SaaS is less expensive and it follows the ASP (Application Service Provider) model. With SaaS, customers pay a low monthly usage fee rather than a large lump-sum license fee that can easily cost millions of dollars and require board approval. SaaS reduces the total cost of ownership of enterprise applications.

Fast Implementation

Prior to SaaS, implementations often took several months and even years to complete. With SaaS, implementation time is greatly reduced helping you get up and running in no time.

Help and Support

With Impart Solution's SaaS, you also get technical support and helpdesk. If you need help, call us during business hours. Support is included with your SaaS subscription. Support on a 24 X 7 hour basis is also available at an additional cost for your mission critical needs.
